PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Alfredo Häberli

Luceplan Carrara LED Floor

The Luceplan Carrara is a sculptural statement piece that harnesses a minimalistic and elegant design. The seamless design is thanks to manufacturing from a single piece of polyurethane cast into a flowing form. It was designed by Alfredo Haberli in 2000 and is named after the Italian city of the same name in Tuscany. The city owes its fame to the white marble extracted there, which was the inspiration for the white model of the Luceplan Carrara.

This floor lamp casts an ambient glow upwards, emitting light towards the ceiling and reflecting back to illuminate the room, it is fitted with an LED module with ensures it is environmentally friendly and energy efficient. The Carrara can also be regulated by a foot dimmer on the cable, making this light extremely easy to operate and adjust according to your environment or needs. The soft light distribution

This contemporary design is a perfect mood light, and can blend in to almost any modern interior, and makes a great addition to your lounge or dining space. Due to it's size, the Carrara Floor Lamp can also be a great fit for public spaces as well as your home.
