Fabbian Lumi Mochi Floor Lamp

Utilising the same painted-white structure as the Sfera Floor Lamp, the Fabbian Lumi Mochi Floor Lamp differs via the diffuser shape. Where the Sfera has a spherical diffuser, the Lumi Mochi diffuser was designed with a slightly flattened base, designed to resemble the appearance of a Japanese rice cake "Mochi" after which the light fixture is named, it provides a functional but inviting diffused glow which thanks to the curves of the shade is evenly dispersed.

The Fabbian Lumi Mochi Floor Lamp can be displayed individually, or employed with other lighting solutions from the collection for a cohesive interior style. Due to the IP40 rating, this lamp can be utilised in bathrooms as long as it is placed a sufficient distance away from any water sources. The simple finish and even dispersion of light from the Mochi Floor Lamp ensures the lamp can adapt to a wide array of environments and can be used in both residential and commercial settings. Display the Mochi Floor Lamp in entryways, bedrooms, hallways, dining spaces, kitchens, hotel lobbies or even in restaurants and bars.
