Fabbian Lumi Mochi Table Lamp

An unobtrusive and functional lighting solution, the Fabbian Lumi Mochi Table Lamp is a more discreet version of the Mochi Stemmed Table Lamp. Designed by Alberto Saggia & Valerio Sommella, this lamp features a white-blown glass diffuser, white-painted metal structure, and reinforced fibreglass. The diffuser is slightly flattened at the bottom, designed to resemble the appearance of a Japanese rice cake "Mochi" after which the light fixture is named.

Thanks to these minimalistic and elegant features, the Fabbian Lumi Mochi can be utilised in an array of contemporary interiors. Available in three sizes it can be displayed individually or in multiples for a large feature piece. This table lamp is a graceful addition to living rooms, bedrooms, entryway tables and kitchen counters. Due to the IP40 rating, the Fabbian Mochi Table Lamp can be utilised in bathrooms as long as it is placed a sufficient distance away from any water sources.
