Santa & Cole FAD Floor Lamp

A lamp with a permanent elegance, the FAD Floor Lamp was designed by Miguel Mila, and is a fine example of true craftsmanship. The lamp was originally designed for and named after the Fostering Arts and Design (FAD) Association in Barcelona. A group of architects and artisans concerned about the effects of industrialisation founded the Association in 1903. Since then, FAD has been an advocate for projective arts and for Spanish architecture. Thus, Miguel Mila's design of the lamp fully embodies the expression of industrial craftsmanship.

The FAD Floor Lamp is available in two styles, the FAD and the FAD Fija. The FAD features a height-adjustable lampshade, while the FAD Fija has a fixed height. Both styles boast a sleek, cylindrical structure made of oak, hollow on the inside, that perfectly balances the white parchment shade at the top. The base comprises of two cross-pieces of oak to close off the hollow section and provide the lamp with added sturdiness. The light can be dimmed, giving you full control of the light intensity and tailoring the brightness to your liking. The neutral tones and classic silhouette of the FAD Floor Lamp suit a wide range of interiors, in domestic and commercial settings alike.
