PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Achille Castiglioni

Flos Lampadina Table Lamp

Originally designed by Achille Castiglioni for the opening of the Flos showroom in Turin in 1972, the Lampadina Table Lamp has been brought into the 21st century, now coming complete with an LED bulb whilst still utilising a stripped-back industrial aesthetic. The large LED bulb lamp is partially satin finished to limit its reverberation and housed on a bulb holder with a built-in switch, allowing you to easily control the output.

With a functional and simple design aesthetic, the Flos Lampadina Table Lamp provides a direct and even glow, making it the perfect accompaniment to a desk, work area or reading nook. The aluminium base of the Lampadina also has a reel-like form, useful for rolling up excess cable to keep your task area tidy.
