Maki Pendant Light by Foscarini

The Maki pendant light is a beautiful and stunning light designed by Nendo in 2011. The pendant is formed from 2 aluminium sheets folded around each other, resembling pieces of paper creating soft petal-like shapes. Delicate and poetic, the light reflects the grace found in nature evoking images of seashells and flowers.

The design of the Maki pendant allows the light to softly escape and also emits a downward directed light, perfect for hanging over tables and surfaces. Wonderful in kitchens, dining areas and lounges in commercial and domestic settings, this pendant light will add a touch of class and elegance to any space.
