Artemide Nur Mini Ceiling Light

Artemide Nur Mini Ceiling Light is the ceiling-mounted version of Nur. Designed by Ernesto Gismondi, it keeps the source inside the body, so the fitting gives a softer, more controlled light.

The fitting combines direct output with indirect emission, so it throws a halo of decorative light onto the ceiling rather than relying only on the downward spread. Gloss versions are encased in a diffuser at the bottom, while the standard finishes keep the more familiar expression of the wider family.

Artemide Nur Mini Ceiling Light is available in Anodised Aluminium, Anthracite Grey, Gloss White, and Gloss Black. Its compact scale and IP40 rating make it easy to use where a pendant would feel too dominant, while the Nur form still gives the ceiling a clear point of definition. Best suited for hallways, bedrooms, kitchens, and other residential or hospitality interiors where a compact ceiling light can provide general ambient lighting with a simple architectural presence.
