Oluce Fresnel 1148 Wall Light

The Oluce Fresnel 1148 Wall Light, designed by Joe Colombo in 1966, is a palm-sized marvel of lighting design. With a diameter of just 10cm, this compact yet impactful lamp features a Fresnel lens that refracts and disperses light evenly, producing a soft, diffused glow. The light's minimalist metal body, available in a range of neutral finishes, complements its elegant functionality. Designed with an IP44 rating, this wall light is perfect for damp environments, allowing it to be used in bathrooms, outdoor terraces, or other challenging settings.

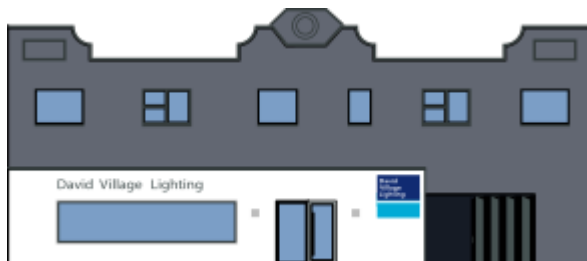

A timeless design classic, the Fresnel 1148 Wall Light offers versatility, making it suitable for both residential and commercial interiors. Its thoughtful design ensures practical lighting without compromising aesthetics. The Fresnel 1148 is a tribute to Colombo's philosophy of creating functional yet beautiful objects that endure through time.

The Oluce Fresnel 1148 Wall Light is also available in a white or grey finish, please contact us for more information and pricing.
